

ECCLESIASTICAL PRIVATE TRUST CHARTER

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This document is a formal Executive Summary of the Ecclesiastical Private Trust established under divine authority by Jonathan Daniel Clements. It serves as both a public declaration and private notice of jurisdictional separation from civil, statutory, and commercial governance.

This Trust is not registered under corporate, state, or federal entities, and is not bound by public law or regulatory code. It stands as a sovereign, non-statutory, and ecclesiastical entity governed exclusively by divine law and internal ecclesiastical mandates.

KEY DECLARATIONS:

1. The Trust operates under the supreme authority of the Creator and is rooted in scriptural and natural law.
2. Its governance structure is non-hierarchical, sovereign, and self-regulating.
3. The Ecclesiastical Executor, Jonathan Daniel Clements, holds all executive powers under divine appointment.
4. All property, living beings, instruments, and declarations held within this Trust are outside the jurisdiction of any commercial, state, or federal control.
5. This Trust acknowledges no debt, contract, or corporate status with any nation-state or municipal entity.
6. All records, filings, and assertions made by this Trust are ecclesiastical in nature and are not subject to contest by foreign authorities.
7. This Trust exists to protect the divine rights, spiritual identity, and sacred autonomy of its members, heirs, and beneficiaries.
8. It includes internal governance, private banking protocols, diplomatic identification, inheritance structures, and private ecclesiastical law.
9. This Trust rebukes any claim made through false commercial presumption, including birth registration, taxation, civil contract, or imposed fiduciary roles.

10. The Trust is established in perpetuity and shall not be dissolved, usurped, or modified by any external entity.

This Executive Summary is hereby issued as proof of status and function. It may be accompanied by further documents as required by the Executor to assert lawful jurisdiction and private authority.

No notary, witness, or public registration is necessary for this Trust's standing.

Executed and sealed this day under the highest spiritual authority.
